

Program Structure and Admission

The California SB2042 Preliminary Single Subject Teaching Credential can be earned concurrently with the undergraduate program, as a post-baccalaureate non-degree program, or as a Master of Arts in Teaching (M.A.T.) program. Students may also earn the SDA Basic Secondary certificate concurrently. Students should consult with the credential analyst to determine the appropriate program for their needs.

This guidesheet describes the undergraduate program and the post-baccalaureate non-degree program. Both of these programs result in a teacher certification, not in a degree. Students interested in the M.A.T. program should refer to page EDUC-07.

Occupational Information

What can I do with this program?

Candidates who complete the single-subject credential program become middle or high school teachers.

Additional Education Required?

Holders of CA preliminary teaching credentials are expected to complete a state-approved Teacher Induction to maintain and upgrade their credentials. Holders of SDA Basic certificates must complete additional coursework to maintain and upgrade the certificate.

Public Sector vs. Denominational?

Candidates can find employment in SDA, public, or private schools.

Job Outlook

The job outlook for teachers is excellent as the demand for teachers is expected to increase. The Education Department provides a placement service that assists candidate's entry into the teaching profession. Part of this service includes arranging for interviews with prospective employers during the final year of the program.

Scholarships

The Adventist Mission Scholarship in Education is available to incoming students who commit to entering the teaching profession. A variety of additional scholarships are available to credential candidates during their final quarter of student teaching. Students interested in public school employment may inquire about the Golden State Teacher Grant Program.

Course Restrictions and Prerequisites

Prerequisites for Full-Time Student Teaching

Candidates must meet the following prerequisites prior to participation in the full-time student teaching experience.
