ABOUT PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE

Founded in 1882, Pacific Union College is an accredited Seventh-day Adventist Christian college where students learn with purpose, rise in faith, and serve with love. PUC has been recognized as a best value college for its diverse student population, strong retention, and high acceptance rates of its graduates into medical school, dental school, and prestigious graduate programs. The college is committed to providing students with an exceptional undergraduate experience focused on outstanding academics and Christian values.

POINTS OF DISTINCTION

- The college prides itself on a long tradition of high acceptance rates to medical and dental schools and graduate programs. Alumni have attended Loma Linda University, UC Davis School of Law, UCLA, Yale, and other prestigious institutions.
- PUC ranks number two in the nation for associate degree schools which provide the best return-on-investment after graduation (Payscale.com).
- The department of biology houses several first-rate collections, which include a geology and paleontology museum, a vertebrate animal collection, and a herbarium.
- The Herbert Ford Pitcairn Islands Study Center houses the largest collection of Pitcairn artifacts in the world.
- The Albion Field Station serves as a 17-acre satellite campus on the Pacific Coast near Mendocino, Calif.
- PUC has sent over 1,400 student missionaries to serve in countries including Chile, the Czech Republic, Fiji, Kazakhstan, Kenya, the Marshall Islands, and South Korea.
- Students participate in over 30 cultural, academic, and special interest clubs; 11 honor societies; and 11 community outreach programs.
- PUC is one of only 58 NAIA Institutions to achieve gold level Champions of Character Five-Star status, among 250 member schools.
- PUC has over 27,000 graduates out making a difference in our world. EdSmart ranked PUC #10 of the Best Christian Colleges in California.

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE MISSION STATEMENT

Pacific Union College is a Seventh-day Adventist learning community offering an excellent Christ-centered education that prepares its students for productive lives of useful human service and uncompromising personal integrity.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SEATING

There is an open seating plan for all weekend events. No more than one row (up to 14 seats) per graduate may be reserved. A person must be present and remain present to reserve seats. Seats may not be held past 11:05 A.M. for Baccalaureate; seats for Commencement may only be held from 6:00 A.M. until 8:50 A.M., at which time all seats become available for the general audience.

PHOTOS AT BACCALAUREATE

Other than during the processional, please refrain from using flash photography during the service. The processional will take place down the center aisle. Please stay behind the rope boundaries.

PHOTOS AT COMMENCEMENT

1. Graduates will march down the left and right center aisles. Check the seating chart board at the back of Maxwell Commons for your graduate's marching side (left or right).
2. For pictures of your graduate actually receiving their diploma, please rely on the professional photographers from Grad Images (at gradimages.com or (800) 261-2576). Other photographers are not allowed near the stage or inside the rope boundaries.
3. On the left side as you face the stage, the ropes are located near where your graduate will come down the steps after receiving their diploma. That will be your best position to snap your own picture of your graduate.
4. Following the ceremony, graduates are requested to go directly to the designated meet-up areas of their academic home department. Please meet at these locations for photos.

COMMENCEMENT LIVE STREAMING

Commencement will be streaming live on our website at puc.edu.

SPEAKERS

TUWAN USSERY, Assistant Professor of Social Work, serves the PUC community as the Service-Learning Director and Chair for Diversity, Equity & Inclusion. With a Master's Degree from Andrews University in Social Work and Pastoral Ministry, Ussery is also a licensed clinical social worker and holds ministerial credentials with the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Those interests have continued at PUC as Ussery continues to preach itinerantly for church groups on topics of social justice and community empowerment. Professional affiliations include the National Association of Black Social Workers & National Youth and Leadership Conference. Ussery enjoys spending family time with their four kids. His favorite Bible verse is John 10:10: I have come that they may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly.

Laura Wibberding, Assistant Professor of Theology, History, Psychology and Social Work, earned her Master's in Religion from Andrews University with an emphasis in Church History. Before coming to PUC, in her 17 years as a pastor's spouse, she was a youth leader and church drama director. During that time she enjoyed writing, directing and costuming for Bible and church history dramas. Wibberding loves stories, writing and ruins. She is passionate about helping others find and develop their own talent. Wibberding has a now-retired blog called The Other Adventist Home that discusses life and church in the modern world. She has also written for various church publications. Here at PUC, Wibberding enjoys the archives, old buildings, creating new classes and meeting new students - who impress her every day.

JAMES WIBBERDING, Professor of Applied Theology and Biblical Studies, is passionate about building up the God-created potential in others. He served as a pastor for 17 years in Pennsylvania, Idaho and Washington state before joining PUC's Department of Theology in 2017. Wibberding enjoys finding innovative ways to translate the Adventist message to our changing world. He holds a Mdiv and DMin in Leadership from Andrews University. He also serves as adjunct professor to their Doctor of Ministry Program. In his recreational time, one might find Wibberding playing outdoors with his three children, chatting with his wife, Laura, about a new intellectual curiosity, working on a classic, or building a stringed instrument from reclaimed wood.

LISS LEAL is the Operations Director for Northern California Kaiser Permanente HealthConnect. She maintains the electronic health record for the Hospitals and Continuum while also overseeing informaticists who carry out multifaceted clinical and operational projects. Previously, Leal served multiple leadership levels, from house supervisor to director roles, and taught at Pacific Union College as a med-surg professor for nine years. Teaching at PUC brought her much joy, and she wishes to return to it one day.

Leal completed her Baccalaureate of Science in Nursing from Pacific Union College in 2003, a Master of Science in Nursing from Sonoma State University in 2010, and currently is completing a Doctor of Philosophy in Nursing at Loma Linda University. In her spare time, she enjoys baking, cross-stitching, spending time with her family, watching movies and gardening.

SANDRA ROBERTS is the Executive Secretary of the Pacific Union Conference and Chair of the Board of Trustees for Pacific Union College. Roberts has an extensive history within the Seventh-day Adventist Church having faithfully served as a conference president, pastor, religion teacher, campus chaplain, associate youth director and camp director. Roberts earned her Bachelor's degree from Loma Linda University, her Master's degree from Andrews University, and her Doctorate's degree from the Claremont School of Theology. An avid world traveler, she has visited more than 90 countries to date and loves exploring the back roads. She is passionate about excellence in ministry and inviting others into the adventure of following Jesus wherever it leads.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ACADEMIC BANNERS

The eight banners used in the graduation procession and displayed during the ceremony represent the college seal and the seven areas of study that are part of the College's legacy of academic offerings. Each banner incorporates either the torch or the book—elements of PUC's college seal. The colors and the other symbols employed in each banner represent the academic fields.

ABOUT MAXWELL COMMONS

D. Malcolm Maxwell was the nineteenth president of PUC, and the first alumnus to serve in that role. He had the longest tenure—18 years—of any president of the college. Maxwell passed away in 2007, but his legacy and the impact he has had on PUC continue to live on. He is remembered for his energy, passion, and commitment to higher education, and it is in this spirit Maxwell Commons was named.

SIGNIFICANCE OF ACADEMIC REGALIA

Caps and gowns worn in formal academic convocations in American colleges and universities are the descendants of the everyday attire worn in the universities of medieval Europe.

Three basic types of gowns are worn: bachelor's gowns have long, pointed sleeves; master's gowns have long, closed sleeves; and doctorate gowns have full sleeves with velvet bars. The bars may be black to indicate any doctoral degree, or the color of the particular degree, e.g. dark blue for doctors of philosophy.

The part of the regalia that tells the most about the degree is the hood. Hoods for master degrees are lined with satin in the colors of the academic institution conferring the degree. The edging or trim of the hood is a wide velvet band, the color of which indicates the academic area in which the degree is earned. The wide, velvet edging of the doctoral hood indicates the particular kind of degree held, e.g. dark blue for Ph.D., light blue for Ed.D., and green for M.D. The length of the hood reflects the level of the degree represented.

Some universities include stoles specific to their university. PUC graduates have the option of adding the college's stole or stoles representing their cultural heritage, status as a first generation college graduate, or status in the US military to their regalia. PUC's stole is green with the college's seal in gold. Graduates who have participated in the Adventist Colleges Abroad and World Missions programs wear white and light gray stoles respectively with the flag of each country in which they studied or served, while members of the National Society of Leadership & Success may wear platinum stoles with black embroidery.

The mortarboard or beret is worn with all degrees. The tassel should be black or the color appropriate to the subject, with the exception of the doctor's cap that may have a tassel of gold.

STUDENT ROBE COLORS

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE NURSING PIN

Florence Nightingale is the first nurse known to have been presented with a professional nursing pin, awarded by Queen Victoria for her outstanding patient care to soldiers during the Crimean War.

The Associate of Science graduates' pin is in the form of a Greek cross, which has become a symbol of unselfish nursing service given with professional knowledge and skill. The lamp in the center of the pin symbolizes the relief of suffering by nurses who give love, caring, and healing.

The Bachelor of Science graduates' pin has three circles surrounded by a laurel wreath. Within the inner circle is a flaming torch denoting Christ as the light of the world, and an open book which represents the book of life and the wisdom of the scriptures. The next circle contains the motto of the college, "They shall be all taught of God," and the outer circle identifies the college name, Pacific Union College. The wreath signifies the achievement of the victors of the baccalaureate nursing program.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

EDUCATOR OF THE YEAR

Serah Choi, Assistant Professor of Nursing, earned her Associate's and Bachelor's degrees in Nursing from Pacific Union College and her Master's degree from Loma Linda University. In 2013, Choi joined the Nursing Department as the Learning Labs Coordinator, organizing and maintaining the skills lab and high-fidelity simulation mannequins. She currently teaches fundamentals nursing skills to the first, second, and third quarter nursing students, and leads clinical groups for second quarter nursing students while studying to take her certified nurse's exam. Choi met her husband and director of the Aviation program, Chris, in Korea when they were in middle school. They remained friends until her junior year in high school when she moved to California. The Chois started dating in 2011 when Chris moved to the United States and later married in 2017. In her free time, Serah Choi enjoys camping and cooking.

COMMENCEMENT DAY SHUTTLE SERVICE

A shuttle is available upon request from 7:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. between the residence halls and the graduation site. Contact the residence hall receptionist or the PR Booth at the Graduation Site to request shuttle service. See map on the following page for shuttle service locations.

SEATING

There is an open seating plan for all weekend events. No more than one row (up to 14 seats) per graduate may be reserved. A person must be present and remain present to reserve seats. Seats may not be held past 11:05 a.m. for Baccalaureate; seats for Commencement may be held starting at 6:00 a.m. until 8:50 a.m. when all seats become available for the general audience.

PARKING

Plan to arrive at least an hour early to Commencement to find parking and get seated. Guests can park on the main campus. Campus parking lots will be closed as they become full. Overflow parking will be at the College Market on Howell Mountain Road. See map on the following page for parking locations.

DRESS

Weather can vary in June, from foggy and chilly to sunny and warm. Check the weather forecast and dress appropriately.

CEREMONY ETIQUETTE

Only service dogs are allowed at the Commencement ceremony. Dogs will not be permitted to stay in cars unattended. Please do not use air horns and confetti. If tortillas are thrown, they should not reach the platform and should only be used at appropriate times in the program.
