Student Learning Outcomes

Students can:

- Engage and support all students in learning.
- Create and maintain effective environments for student learning.
- Understand and organize subject matter for student learning.
- Plan instruction and design learning experiences for all students.
- Assess student learning.
- Develop as a professional educator.
- Integrate faith and learning (SDA credential candidates only).
- Conduct academic research.*
- Demonstrate educational leadership.*

* Denotes learning outcomes for the MAT that are differentiated from the credential program.

Occupational Information

What can I do with this program?

Candidates who complete the single-subject credential program become middle or high school teachers. The M.A.T. can also qualify candidates for more advanced-level positions within schools.

Additional Education Required?

Holders of CA preliminary teaching credentials are expected to complete a state-approved Teacher Induction to maintain and upgrade their credentials.

The M.A.T. is a terminal degree and does not provide a foundation for further graduate study in a doctoral program.

Public Sector vs. Denominational?

Candidates can find employment in SDA, public, or private schools.

Job Outlook

The job outlook for teachers is excellent as the demand for teachers is expected to increase. The Education Department provides a placement service that assists candidate's entry into the teaching profession. Part of this service includes arranging for interviews with prospective employers during the program.

Scholarships

The Adventist Mission Scholarship is available to incoming freshman and transfer students to earning an SDA teaching credential. A variety of additional scholarships are available to credential candidates during their final quarter of student teaching. Students interested in public school employment may inquire about the Golden State Teacher Grant Program.
