

WHAT'S NEW

AT PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE

TOUCH DOWN: CHARLIE ARRIVES AT PUC On Monday, February 23, Pacific Union College's aviation program's newest addition to its fleet, affectionately known as Charlie, landed at its new home at Virgil O. Parrett Field. Many students, faculty, staff, photographers, and PUC board and community members waited in excitement for Charlie's arrival, eagerly tracking the aircraft's tail number on the FlightAware app and monitoring the skies.

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE'S PARAMEDIC TO RN PROGRAM CONTINUES GROWTH Pacific Union College has achieved great success in its Paramedic to RN program, allowing up to 9 EMT-P students annually to join its already well-established LVN/Med-Tech-to-RN program, and will graduate the third cohort this June. Since the program's launch in 2022 and enrollment increase in 2023, it has filled a significant need in the job market, enabled PUC to expand its services, and also bridged the gap for paramedics looking to advance their education and careers.

"PUC HAS TRULY BEEN A MIRACLE AND A BIG BLESSING IN MY LIFE" After attending public schools, Rut Gonzalez always knew she wanted to attend an Adventist school, even though she was afraid she would not be accepted or could not afford it. From the encouragement of PUC Vice President of Alumni and Advancement Carlos Garcia to still apply, that conversation changed her life. Three weeks before classes started, Rut received her acceptance letter from PUC. "I trusted God, believing that if He wanted me to be at PUC, He would take care of everything," she said. "The confidence he gave me and my trust in God are the reasons I am here today."

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT: BRITNEY HERNANDEZ For Britney Hernandez, it was a natural feeling for her to attend PUC. After spending a year earning her AA in Social and Behavior Sciences from Las Positas Community College, she couldn't see herself on a large campus sitting in a lecture hall with hundreds of students—she wanted to be in a school where professors knew her name and where she wasn't another number. When she saw that PUC offered a bachelors in psychology, valued spiritual life, and sat in a beautiful location, Britney knew exactly where she would transfer to.

AN INTERVIEW WITH SENIOR CLASS RVP ABIEL IRVING This year's senior class religious vice president from Tallahassee, FL, is Abiel Irving, a psychology and pre-law student. Serving as class chaplain, her primary goal is to lead spiritual activities, creating a welcoming, uplifting, and fun atmosphere that reflects and shares the joyful spirit of religion.

PUC WELCOMES NEW HR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR Since February, Josette Robinson McDonald has been the executive director of human resources at PUC. From Kingston, Jamaica, she graduated from Northern Caribbean University with a BSc in Finance in 2009, followed by earning her MBA from Florida International University in 2013.

HOMELESS MINISTRIES: GIVING GOD'S LOVE TO PEOPLE WHO NEED IT MOST For many years, PUC's Homeless Ministries group has served communities, meeting their needs and sharing God's love. This year, Homeless Ministries has been working with several organizations and centers to continue its mission through acts of service, aiming to bless nearby communities.
