Health Sciences, A.S.

Pacific Union College offers an A.S. degree with a major in Health Sciences. This major can be taken in conjunction with the pre-medical radiography requirements. For more information, see page NHSC-03 or contact the Health Sciences advisor in the Nursing and Health Sciences Department.

* The lab portion is recommended by PUC, but not required by LLU.

Occupational Information

General Areas of Service

The medical radiographer, or radiologic technologist, is responsible for the accurate demonstration of body structures, on a radiograph or other image receptor. The technologist determines proper exposure factors, manipulates medical imaging equipment, evaluates the radiographic image for quality, and provides for patient protection and comfort. The medical radiographer frequently assists the physician team member in specialized procedures. These often require the administration of chemical mixtures to the patient for enhanced viewing of the function of body systems.

Professional Training

The A.S. program in medical radiography prepares the student to take the certification examinations necessary to become a radiologic technologist. Advanced training is needed if one wants to prepare for administration, clinical practice, education, or health physics. In addition to the A.S. program, a B.S. program is offered at Loma Linda University.

For graduates of the A.S. degree program, four certificate programs are available: Medical Sonography, Nuclear Medicine, Special Imaging, and Radiation Therapy.

Job Outlook

Favorable opportunities for both full and part-time work are anticipated through the 2000's.

Earnings

The starting average wage scale is approximately $40,000 - $60,000.
