- Assess information and situations to make rational ethical business decisions.
- Demonstrate effective oral and written communication skills.
- Leverage decision-support tools and research to integrate business knowledge in applied settings.

Occupational Information

What can I do with this major?

Following graduation, students with an emphasis in International Business will have opportunities in the following:

- 1) International banking and international operations of multinational corporations.
- 2) An internship or management training program in international business.
- 3) Graduate schools of business, law, or a related field.
- 4) Self-employment.

Additional Education Required?

Many organizations require a bachelor's degree for potential employees. Many managers have found that the knowledge and perspective gained in earning a master's and/or doctorate degree enhances their competitive position. To reach the highest ranks in college and university environments, a doctorate is essential.

Job Outlook

This degree prepares graduates to compete in the global market. The demand for graduates with both business and cultural knowledge will increase due to the fact that the global economy has been progressively expanding.

* Courses used to fulfill requirements in these sections may not also fulfill requirements in another emphasis or business program.
